

77%

agree that their employer has provided them with the equipment they need to do their job safely.

46%

agree that their employers have provided mental health resources.

40%

agree that their employers have helped them financially during the pandemic.

Scenario	Level of Concern
	Concerned	Neither Concerned Nor Unconcerned	Unconcerned
Bringing COVID-19 to family at home	72%	9%	14%
Contracting COVID-19 while working on the front lines	69%	13%	16%
Physical health (outside of COVID-19)	56%	18%	24%
The state of their mental health	48%	18%	32%
The amount of time they are away from family during this crisis	46%	16%	29%
Feeling lonely outside of work	39%	16%	39%
Losing their job	35%	16%	45%

Q: How do you feel about working on the front lines?

"This is why I became a nurse, to be there for people when no one else will."

"I feel like I am putting my life and my family's life at risk by working, but I don't have a choice."

"Customers don't respect your space...uncaring at times and rude."

"With my work we can make a great change in this moment."

Fielded 5/8/20 – 5/13/20 of 416 essential workers.